About the session:

An awareness session on Sustainable Waste Disposal and the Need for Cleanliness was taken by Capt. Ravinder Singh to their academic buildings. The session aimed to educate attendees on the importance of managing waste responsibly and maintaining cleanliness to promote a healthier and more sustainable environment.

Capt. Ravinder delivered an engaging presentation on various methods of sustainable waste disposal. He also explained the "3 Rs" – Reduce, Reuse, and Recycle – as key practices in minimizing waste. Real-life examples and success stories of communities that effectively implemented these principles were shared, providing practical insights into waste reduction.

Clear Doubts:

The session concluded with a question-and-answer segment, allowing participants to seek further information and clarify doubts about sustainable waste disposal methods.

Conclusion:

The organizers plan to follow up on the outcomes by providing support for community-led waste management initiatives and by organizing similar awareness sessions in the future.

Overall, the awareness session was informative and well-received, leaving attendees inspired to implement what they had learned. The session underscored that sustainable waste disposal and cleanliness are not only the responsibility of authorities but also a shared duty of every individual.
